BOURBON MAN STRONG CANDIDATE

Bourbon's Representative, Jas. H. Thompson, Conceded Strongest Candidate For Speakership

H. C. DUFFY MAY WITHDRAW

With the opening of the 1922 session of the General Assembly but twelve days away, Democrats are already preparing to watch with keen interest the events which will transpire there for the next three months, the party again having control of both legislative branches of the assembly despite a Republican administration.

The Assembly will convene Tuesday, January 3. On Monday, the day preceding, the Democratic members of both the Senate and the House will gather in a caucus to organize both branches for the coming session. The caucus of the party's members of the House of Representatives will be held in the body's hall at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The Senate caucus will be held at 8 o'clock that night.

Official calls for both conferences were issued during the past week by Judge Charles Harmin, of Harrodsburg, chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee.

There are but three candidates for Speaker of the House at the present time. Jas. H. Thompson, of Bourbon county, Democratic floor leader during the last session, Ira D. Smith, of Hopkinsville, and H. C. Duffy, of Cynthiana, are the candidates. Henry Lawrence, of Cadiz, until a short time ago also sought this office. He withdrew, however, and his support has been cast to Representative Smith.

Central Kentucky politicians forecast the election of Mr. Thompson as Speaker. He entered the race for this place at an early date and is known to have already obtained pledges of support from a large number of Democratic members of the House. Central Kentucky, northern and eastern Representatives are expected to vote for him.

Mr. Smith is regarded as the most likely winner should Mr. Thompson fail to marshal sufficient support to obtain the Speakership. Representative Duffy, according to many politicians, will withdraw his name as a candidate when the caucus is convened and throw whatever support he may have to Thompson. Should this occur Thompson will undoubtedly be elected.

PARIS STUDENT ADVOCATE OF SELF-GOVERNMENT

Under the above caption Sunday's Courier-Journal published a half-tone portrait of Miss Fannie Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Heller, of Paris, with the following comment:

"Miss Fannie Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Heller, of Paris, is president of the Woman's Self-Government Association of the University of Kentucky."

"She is a Senior in the Home Economic Department and a member of the Home Economics Honorary Fraternity."

"Miss Heller presided at the State Conference of Women's Self-Government Associations held recently in Lexington."

RED TAPE CUT IN FEDERAL TAX REFUND

A slashing of red tape in connection with obtaining refund and abatement in connection with overpayments of Federal taxes is announced in that taxpayers hereafter will not be advised of the privilege of filing a claim for refund of taxes paid in excess of amounts legally due, but instead will receive certificates of overassessment and a check in correction of error. The change will be effective immediately. The new procedure will result in a reduction in the amount of interest the Government will be required to pay on claims for refund.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

While walking in a room at her home on Second street, Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft's foot caught in a heavy floor rug, throwing her down. In the fall she sustained a sprained ankle.

At Ravenna, Dr. E. S. Caywood, formerly of Paris, brother of School Superintendent J. B. Caywood, of Paris, was painfully burned when some gasoline with which he was filling a torch, exploded, throwing the fiery fluid over his hands and neck.

Saturday afternoon while Fred Flister, Jr., and two brothers were returning to Paris from Lexington by way of the Bryant Station pike, their car skidded and ran over a cement culvert about six miles out from Lexington. The front wheels and springs of the car were smashed. The boys escaped with a severe shaking up, but were uninjured.

The same afternoon a Scott county man, whose name was withheld, accidentally drove his machine over the end of Pleasant street, near Second, and Nashville tracks, uninjured. The driver confessed that he was unfamiliar with the vicinity, and thought the street kept straight on, instead of turning into Second street. With the assistance of Mr. C. C. Collier, who was passing at the time, the car was righted and pushed along the tracks to Third street, where the driver was instructed how to reach Main street.

BASKET BALL

The basketball team of the local Knights of Columbus lodge met the Lexington team of the Lexington lodge in a game on the floor of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night, and went down in defeat to the tune of 27 to 3. The local basketball team put up a determined struggle, but the odds against them were too great to overcome. The local team lined up as follows: Frank Santen, center; Baldwin Woods, (captain) guard; S. Brophy, guard; B. Burnett, forward; E. A. Woods, forward; Sheffield, referee.

In the double-header game on the Nicholasville floor Saturday afternoon, the Paris High School boys team met defeat by the Nicholasville HI team by the score of 14 to 11. The Paris High School girls team was more fortunate, winning their contest with the Nicholasville HI girls team by the score of 18 to 13.

The Y. M. C. A. team of Paris, captained by Collier Dawes, of this city, and the Georgetown College team met in a struggle at the College gymnasium last night. THE NEWS went to press too early to learn the result of the game.

A NICE CHRISTMAS GIFT

There could be no nicer Christmas present for anyone than a copy of "The History of Old Cane Ridge Church," which can be obtained for $1.50 at the J. T. Hinton Co.'s and at the Paris Book Co.

The money derived from the sale of these books is to be turned over to J. Will Thomas, treasurer of the Cane Ridge Church Fund, and is to be applied to the restoration of the old church and the adjacent grounds which have, through the ravages of weather, become somewhat out of repair. A large number of copies of this work, which was compiled and edited by the late Capt. James R. Rogers, have been sold by the promoters of the restoration fund, and have been sent to numerous places throughout the country.

Get a copy of this book to-day and send it as a souvenir to some friend who has lived in Bourbon county, and you may be sure there will be a note of appreciation follow its receipt. At the same time you will be helping in a laudable enterprise, one that should appeal to every resident of Bourbon county.

BOURBON MEN OFFICERS IN SHORTHORN ASSOCIATION

The annual directors meeting of the Kentucky Shorthorn Breeders' Association was held in Lexington last week, when the newly-elected officers took over active management of the Association's affairs. The directors took over active management of the Association's affairs. The directors decided to hold a sale of Shorthorn bulls in Mt. Sterling at an early date, and to offer only first-class young bulls.

After the meeting had been adjourned the members visited the beef cattle department of the University of Kentucky, and inspected the cattle in the college breeding herd. The following Bourbon county men are members of the Board of Directors: Charles B. Gager, Paris, Oscar M. Johnson and Joe Penn Redmon, of Millersburg.

Police men of Uniontown, Penn., are forbidden to wear mustache or whiskers.

BLUE GRASS SHOW HOLDS INTEREST OF POULTRYMEN

With inquiries and entries being received from Kentucky farmers and poultrymen as well as from those in other States, indications are that the first annual winter poultry show to be held in Lexington, December 27 to 31, under the auspices of the Blue Grass Poultry Association, will be an outstanding success, according to A. S. Chapin, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture and president of the association. Many of the details and arrangements for the show have been completed, according to the announcement.

Judges announced for the show in a catalog recently mailed to interested poultrymen include W. Clayton Thomson, Georgetown; Lem Rawnsley, Louisville; A. W. Haller, Louisville, and J. R. Smyth, extension specialist in poultry from the college.
